Opening Night High Five Tunnel

There is a tradition with the Stone Crabs Booster Club. Every year the first home game of the year we do a high five tunnel. We do this to welcome the new players and returning players to Charlotte Sports Park.

It was an exciting opening night with a winning score of 7-3 over the Miracle from Fort Myers. There are some really talented players this year so make sure you come and cheer them on.

In Memory of Bill Williams

Meet and Greet

We had our first meet and greet of the season. With there being so many new players we needed to explain how it worked. Once everyone understood how things worked a great time was had by all.

We learned a lot of things about the new players. As an example Russ Olive touches the tip of each of his shoes and then the base each time he gets up to bat. We also learned that pitcher Jack Labosky converted a school bus into a “tiny home” to live in to save money on rent. I am sure that we will learn so much more about all our boys as the year goes on. We had a great buffet and had time to getting to know everyone.

Each newsletter we are going to feature one of our sponsors. Hair Company of Englewood is owned and operated by Christine Vaughan-Garrison. Christine works along side with her daughter Harley on a daily basis. Christine always welcomes new clients and offers all kinds of services.

Friday evening May 9th the Booster Club had their annual Quarter Frenzy. Boy what a fun evening. The baskets that were donated by the booster club members that were won were generously donated back and rebid on raising even more money. All in all we raised the amazing amount of $1800. to support the boys.

Get Away Bags—When the team goes on an extended road trip we always make sure they go on the bus with a “goodie bag”. This is always a fun time for us and the guys. Before they receive their bags they give the women a hug and the men a handshake. I am really not sure who enjoys this tradition more the players or the booster club members, but I will never tell. Please check the calendar on the website for our next get away day to get your “kiss” or your hug from the guys.
